Teaching Experience

- 2006 - current Private music teacher

For over a decade now I have worked as a private music teacher, giving classes both in voice and piano to a wide variety of students, spanning all ages and ability levels. I have taught very young children up through adults, coaching pupils who merely took music as a hobby, as well as those who desired to pursue professional music careers in the future. I also have experience in teaching children who suffer from minor learning disabilities and who received lessons as a form of therapy.

- Sept. 2014 - June 2016 Taller de Música, Madrid, Spain

Upon completing my university degree, I sought employment at a music school in Madrid, where I taught piano, voice, and general music classes to groups and individuals, both children and adults. It was during this time that I successfully ran a music class of ten three-year-olds, some of which even suffered disabilities, including one student who had Down Syndrome.

- Sept. 2008 - June 2009 Colegio San Agustín, Palma de Mallorca, Spain

Prior to relocating to Madrid, I taught extracurricular music and piano class to a group of eight to ten-year-olds for one school year in Mallorca.

Professional Experience

- 2006 - current Soprano

As a soprano, I have participated in a great number of operas, zarzuelas, recitals, including, but not limited to "Hänsel & Gretel" (Gretel), "Così fan tutte" (Despina), "Luisa Fernanda" (Duchess Carolina), "L'elisir d'amore" (Adina) or "La bohème" (Musetta).
